

New College's Outreach Team

Daniel Powell

Head of Outreach and Communications

Daniel coordinates and manages the College's outreach work and communications output. Originally from Swansea, Daniel studied Geography at Jesus College, Oxford before returning to South Wales to complete his PGCE. He then spent a decade working as a Geography teacher in three very different state-schools in South Wales and West Oxfordshire, holding a variety of whole-school responsibilities.

Georgie Savastano

Senior Outreach Officer

Georgie manages New College's Step-Up programme. Born and raised in Cardiff, Georgie was educated entirely through the medium of Welsh. In 2019 she came to New College, Oxford, to study Biomedical Science, specialising in Neuroscience. Georgie collaborates with Daniel on the College's work as part of the Oxford for Wales Consortium. She organises the annual Seren Summer School for Welsh Year 11 students.

Malwina Kozłowska

Outreach and Admissions Officer

After attending a state school in Essex, Malwina studied French & Beginners' German at New College. Malwina worked as a Step-Up Ambassador during her time at New College, and joined the outreach team after graduating in 2025. She is responsible for delivering Step-Up visits, and organises the annual residential for Year 12 students on the programme.
